

Apparently This Is the Year of the Wig, Both for Men, Women

By SALLY RYAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The ultimate Goldilocks.

It is right there in the Neiman-Marcus Christmas catalogue—a wig spun of 24-karat gold. For $35,000, some affluent Santa Claus can make his girl a golden cherub with this golden hairpiece.

It may be the wiggliest Christmas in history. Wigs are scattered through the Christmas catalogues now in the mail.

The Dallas department store even has wigs for men. They come in blonde or brown—human hair—bountifully unadorned and earthling priced at $45.

Even the kiddies may have a hairy Christmas.

F.A.O. Schwarz, the toy chain is sending out 500,000 Christmas catalogues—100,000 more than last year—offering Pamela and Party Kit, for $25.

Pamela is a dainty ballerina who keeps up with the world of fashion by changing her wig. Included are blonde and brunette wigs, which transform her appearance for each party.

Neiman-Marcus has a thing about equality of the sexes. Each year its catalogue features His and Her junkies, His and Her bathtubs.

This year's bit of togetherness is a matched pair of desert plutocrats, His and Her camels "for people who have been promising themselves to slow down." The store will fly a pair of the first Christmas beats to your private oasis for $4,125. There may be some smaller animals under the Christmas tree, too.

Tiffany & Co., the Fifth Avenue jeweller, has a zootful of baubles—a dancing dragon of diamonds, $9,000, an emerald-eyed sea serpent, $10,700, a dog bracelet, $10,000 and a diamond-clawed alligator pin, $7,200. They'd all fit in a golden basket—Tiffany's vermilion berry basket, $280.

J. C. Penney Co. features the newest member of Santa's menagerie since Rudolph—Santa Mouse. There are Santa Mouse sleepers, $2.96, Santa Mouse gowns, $2.96, Santa Mouse pocketed holiday party dresses, $3.96, Santa Mouse luxurious pants sets, $5.96, Santa Mouse dolls, $3.29, Santa Mouse story books, 94 cents, Santa Mouse records, 88 cents and Santa Mouse His and Her robes, $3.94, size 1 to 4.

In the doll department, there are L'il Miss Fussy who kicks and cries until you change her diaper and Baby's Hungry, who rolls her eyes and chews, $10.88 apiece, Tubsy who splashes and turns her head when you dunk her in a tub, $10.99 and That Kid, who talks tough if you pull his slingshot out of his jeans pocket, $11.88.

Penneys also caters to the tinkers. If there is someone on your list whose ambition is to make a mechanical locomotive—or a cement mixer or a bulldozer—there's a kit for it that costs $3.77. You even can make a copy of a V8 engine for $8.98.

There even is an atomic energy lab, $8.95. A splintaroscope shows exploding atoms, and vapor trails of alpha and beta particles and of cosmic rays can be observed through an atomic cloud chamber. It comes with safe radioactive materials—the alpha source in handy container uranium ore—and comprehensive instructions.

Says White House Knew of Draft Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft chief Lewis B. Hershey says the White House knew in advance of his order that local draft boards revoke deferments of college students who won't carry their draft cards or who interfere with campus military recruiting.

"The answer is easily 'yes,'" Lt. Gen. Hershey told newsmen Wednesday when asked if he had conferred with the White House before issuing the order. "It's hard not to confer with the White House," the Selective Service director added, Hershey is directly responsible to President Johnson and reports directly rather than through intermediaries.

Hershey said the Oct. 26 order, issued five days after a mass protest at the Pentagon, wouldn't apply to students peacefully protesting the draft or the Vietnam war but only to those who violate a law enacted earlier this year.

The law, spurred in Congress by demonstrations where draft cards were burned, provides maximum penalties of a five-year prison term and $10,000 fine for persons who illegally interfere with the draft law or regulations issued under it.

Hershey said regulations allow deferred registrants without their draft cards to be reclassified as available for service.

spectacular launching in the 17-year history of Cape Kennedy.

Emblazoned on the brilliant white sides were the American flag and the letters USA.

Tens of thousands of observers throughout the Cape area watched awestruck, almost with disbelief, as the massive 36-story-tall rocket rode a pillar of fire more than 500 feet long across the sky and sent an unearthly howl rolling across the land.

Many held their breath; others prayed.

The rocket's more than one million parts meshed, pulsed and interacted flawlessly, and all three stages—two of them never flown before—ignited like clockwork during the 11-minute boost phase to push the record satellite into orbit 115 miles above the earth.

Included in the weight of the orbiting craft are the Apollo 4 moon ship; a large metal dummy representing the Lunar Module that two astronauts one day will ride to the surface of the moon, and the still-attached third stage of the Saturn 5.

Total weight of the orbiting vehicle was 280,036 pounds.

The previous record-holder was another Apollo craft and attached rocket stage which weighed 58,537 pounds. They were launched in 1966 by a smaller Saturn 1 rocket. The heaviest payload orbited by the Russians was the 26,900-pound Proton 2 satellite launched in 1965.

The flight plan today was planned to simulate the early phases of an Apollo manned lunar landing mission.

The space vehicle was to orbit the earth at 117 miles for two orbits about three hours, just as Apollo astronauts will to make certain everything is okay.

Then, about 10:15 a.m., the third stage was to restart its engines to propel the spacecraft outwards on a simulated lunar trajectory. After separation of the third stage and dummy lunar module, spacecraft motor was to fire to increase the speed to just short of that necessary to reach the moon.

The Apollo spacecraft, now weighing 67,000 pounds, then was to soar to an altitude of 11,400 miles before plunging back toward earth. The motor was to fire again to ram the craft back into the atmosphere at lunar return speed of nearly 25,000 miles an hour. Blistering heat was to sear its heat shield with 4,500-degree temperatures.

Apollo 4 was to parachute to a landing in the Pacific Ocean 622 miles northwest of Hawaii, where Defense Department recovery forces awaited. Scheduled touchdown time after the 8 hour, 41 minute flight was 3:41 p.m. (EST).

Cloudiness to Increase in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An increase in cloudiness is expected in Arkansas tonight after having five days of clear, cool weather.

A chance of light rain is predicted for tonight in western areas and in southern portions Friday.

Temperatures are expected to be warmer tonight and Friday and become cooler again Saturday.

High temperatures in the state Wednesday ranged from 59 at Walnut Ridge to 66 at Fort Smith. Overnight lows varied from 25 at Clarendon and Gilbert to 43 at Harrison.

There was no rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Third Floor to Revenue Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Revenue Department Building Commission voted Wednesday to have architects start developing plans for adding a third floor to the Revenue Department Building.

The commission apparently is gambling that an attorney general's opinion it has requested will sanction such a move, because it isn't sure that it legally may finance such a project with proceeds of the $5 million bond issue that was used to construct the present building, bond attorneys say it can.

The bond issue is being retired with money from rent paid to the commission on property it acquired under a soundly completed Capital Grounds expansion program.

The building commission estimated Wednesday that a third floor would cost about $500,000.

Best Broiler Serviceman of Year

JACK NEIGHBORS AND RONNIE BURKE

NASHVILLE, ARKANSAS — Special — A Central Soya broiler division employee whose growers produced 8,799,438 pounds of chicken, has been selected "Broiler Serviceman of the Year" for the Nashville operation.

He is Ronnie Burke, 27-year-old employee whose "farm families" produced top broilers in five counties, including Howard, Hempstead, Sevier, Pike, and Little River.

The broiler growers served by

Burke followed the instructions that helped him earn his award, and in the process turned out 2,843,000 chickens. Such factors as feed conversion, a low cost per pound of broilers sent to market and continued improvement of facilities and growing programs contributed to Ronnie's success.

Jack Neighbors, Manager of Central Soya's broiler program, said Burke did an "excellent job in selling growers on newly developed ideas to produce better chicken at less cost, and such a program was beneficial both to Central Soya and the grower."

Burke said he considers himself a 24-hour, 7-day week servant for his broiler growers. He visits each poultry farm in the five counties at least twice a week, and keeps a close watch on the progress of the broilers.

Burke is a native of DeAnn in Hempstead county and he studied agriculture at Southern State College at Magnolia. He joined Central Soya in Nashville in February 1966.

Two Benton Policemen Dismissed

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — A Benton policeman fired and then rehired after he and two other officers seized some $50,000 worth of gambling equipment from a trailer van parked at a gravel pit here Sept. 23, was fired again Wednesday.

Sgt. John Cook said Mayor Noel Butler told him he had been dismissed "in the best interest of the department" shortly after he reported for duty at 3 p.m.

Butler also dismissed Patrolman Al Brumelow, who resigned in protest of Cook's first dismissal by Police Chief J. W. McClintock and later was rehired along with Cook.

Cook's dismissal and Brumelow's resignation came one week after they had broken into the trailer van. The city council later reinstated them and suspended McClintock after a hearing.

The council reinstated McClintock after several of its members conducted separate investigations.

The furor led to a Saline County Grand Jury investigation last month. The Grand Jury said it found "internal problems" within the department, but that they were "administrative and should be resolved by the city." The Police Commission reportedly told the mayor to fire

Refuses to Set Aside Conviction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge William J. Kirby refused Wednesday to cancel the second-degree murder conviction of William Doss, 61, of Little Rock.

Doss was sentenced to a 10-year prison sentence Sept. 21 in the shooting of Mrs. Amberline Alexander, 55, June 3.

Doss' attorney, Rep. H. Allan Dishongh of Little Rock, contended that Doss had been found to be suffering from Parkinson's disease or a similar affliction that would have made it at least difficult for him to have held or fired a pistol.

Dishongh produced a statement Wednesday by Dr. Edwin N. Barron Jr. of Little Rock, medical director of the State Penitentiary. It said that when Barron had examined Doss for admission to the penitentiary, he found Doss to have a "severe tremor of both hands" and that Doss had been unable to grasp or hold a pistol grip with one hand, and "managed only with difficulty to hold it with two hands."

Barron's statement said "it would have been unlikely that this man would be physically capable of effectively aiming and shooting a pistol."

Kirby said the doctor's written statement was inadmissible as evidence because it prevented cross examination.

Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson said Doss had signed a confession and waiver of rights and had testified on the witness stand that he also had fired the pistol previously in a field.

He said a paraffin test also indicated that Doss had fired a pistol.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cinerama, long the sick giant among film companies, appears to be finally doing something about curing its ills.

At least that's the prognosis from Seymour Poe, new president of Cinerama. Poe was Darryl Zanuck's right-hand man in the rebuilding of 20th Century-Fox from near-bankruptcy to blooming prosperity, and he has the same hopes for Cinerama.

The wide-screen process burst on the movie scene in 1952 with its stomach-fluttering roller coaster ride, and its corporate fortunes have followed the same general course. Cinerama has experienced highs with its initial travelogue films and "How the West Was Won" and lows with "The Hallelujah Trail" and "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

The company's finances were a jumble when they were taken over a couple of years ago by William R. Forman, a California theater chain owner. Poe reported that Forman has since cleaned up Cinerama's money woes, and a new $8-million loan from Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. was announced last week.

"Now we are able to proceed on a three-prong program for Cinerama," said Poe, here briefly to discuss projects.

Poe outlined the general areas:

1. Cinerama outlets will increase from the present 75 U.S. theaters to 200, including two in the biggest cities. "For the first time, we have a profusion of pictures to offer theaters," said Poe.

Among them: "Custer of the West" and "East of Java" both sponsored by Cinerama itself; "2001: A Space Odyssey" and "Ice Station Zebra," both from MGM. Other possibilities are two from Columbia, "Anzio" and "McKenna's Gold," plus Cinerama's "Royal Hunt of the Sun" and ABC's "Song of Norway."

2. Production of other films will be sponsored by Cinerama on its own and in partnership with ABC. The television network, which also owns the Paramount theater chain, is entering film making in a big way—a move which has brought anti-trust cries from the major movie companies.

Poe rattled off some current and future projects: "Candy" with Marlon Brando, Richard Burton, Ringo Starr, "Shogun," a Western with Sean Connery and Brigitte Bardot, "Cop-Out," James Mason, Geraldine Chaplin, "The Rover," Anthony Quinn, Rita Hayworth, "For Love of Ivy," Sidney Poitier, "Hell in the Pacific," Lee Marvin, "Charlie," and "3. A distribution company will merchandise throughout the world."

Fairview Has Chance at Title

The Div. 4AA title chase is down to the final two weeks but when the smoke of battle is concluded this week the picture may be more clear. Malvern's Leopards still lead the pack with 5-0-1. Fairview's Cardinals are second with 5-1-0. Crossett's Eagles have a slim hope with 5-1-1.

Top games this week will find Malvern facing the Battling Bucks of Smackover on the home grounds while Fairview must face the challenge of Crossett on the home field. Hope is host to Nashville in non-league action.

A Malvern victory and a Fairview loss would give the title to the Leopards. A Fairview victory coupled with a Malvern win would put the title game up for the following week at Malvern. A Leopard loss and Cardinal win this week would slip the Redbirds into a tie with Malvern. Crossett's only hope is for Malvern to lose two as the Leopards hold a tie with the Eagles.

Results last week in conference play Fairview defeated Arkadelphia 40-7 and Warren edged Hope 7-6. Non-league action saw Malvern defeat Benton 7-0; Smackover down Norphlet 34-15; Crossett lost to El Dorado 14-7 and Magnolia snapped Nashville's 17 game win streak 10-14.

Leigh Hargis of Warren continues as the individual scoring leader with 67 points. Bruce Efford of Malvern leads the PAT makers with 20. Fairview continues as the offensive leader and Malvern as the defensive leader.

The Standings: (4AA Games only)
 Malvern Leopards 5 0 1
 Fairview Cardinals 5 1 0
 Crossett Eagles 5 1 1
 Magnolia Panthers 5 2 1
 Smackover Buckaroos 4 2 0

Bowers Does Celebrate Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 It was Johnny Bower's umpteenth birthday and he celebrated by leading the elderly Toronto Maple Leafs to the top of the National Hockey League's East Division.

Bower, who is 43 if you believe the NHL record book, 44 if you believe him or 45 if you believe others, kicked out 38 Oakland shots as the Maple Leafs defeated the Seals 6-1 Wednesday night.

Combined with Boston's 6-3 romp over New York, the victory lifted the Stanley Cup champion Leafs into first place, one point in front of the Rangers.

Elsewhere, slumping Stan Mikita scored two goals as Chicago tripped Montreal 3-2. Minnesota slugged St. Louis 5-1, and Pittsburgh battled Philadelphia to a 1-1 standoff.

Ron Ellis' unassisted goal with less than five minutes remaining in the first period, got the Maple Leafs started against Oakland.

Then Toronto packed three goals into the second period with Murray Oliver, Allan Stanley and Jim Pappin clicking. After that Bower coasted.

Scoring champ Mikita, hampered by injuries, had managed just one goal in Chicago's first nine games but broke loose for a pair against the crippled Canadians.

Montreal, already playing without Jean Beliveau and Claude Larose, lost John Ferguson, who broke his right hand in a fight with Chicago's Wayne Maki.

The victory was only the third of the season for Chicago and the first at home in five games for the Hawks, defending NHL champions.

Derek Sanderson scored two of Boston's goals as the Bruins ripped the Rangers. Sanderson's first goal came while he was killing a penalty and he scored the second just six seconds into the third period.

Vic Hadfield scored two of the Ranger goals.

Nicklaus, Palmer Favored

By CHARLES GREEN
 MEXICO CITY (AP) — Eighty of the world's best golfers open play today in the 15th World Cup tournament with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer of the United States big favorites to repeat their 1966 team victory.

While the Americans are overwhelming favorites in the field of 40 national teams for the team title, they expect to get tough competition for individual honors from half a dozen top professionals.

There is no big chunk of prize money in this tournament — only $3,000 for the individual champion — but many of the golfers feel national prestige is at stake in the 72-hole tournament on the par 72, 7,250-yard Club de Golf Mexico course.

Top golfers who may give Nicklaus, the leading pro money winner this year, and Palmer competition for individual honors are Gary Player of South Africa, defending individual champion George Knudson of Canada, Bruce Crampton of Australia, Boz Charles of New Zealand, Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Dave Thomas of Wales.

The course, stretched out to make the longest ever used in World Cup play for the largest number of entries ever, is a narrow, demanding layout an hour from downtown Mexico City.

Palmer, who had his only practice on the course Wednesday during the pro-am when he carded a 76, said he is passing up the Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., which means Nicklaus will be the 1967 leading money winner on the PGA tour. His victory at the Sahara Open gave him $188,998 in the official winnings. Palmer has won a bit more than $182,000.

"I'm tired," said Palmer, who has never won the international trophy for individual honors although he has played on a record five winning teams. "All I want to do is get through this tournament and then get some rest."

Palmer and Nicklaus have won team honors last year in Tokyo, in Hawaii in 1964 and in Paris the year before that. Palmer and Sam Snead won in 1962 in Buenos Aires and 1960 in Dublin.

Nicklaus took individual honors in Hawaii and Paris, the only golfer to win consecutive individual titles. He shot a 71 in Wednesday's Pro-Am.

Best scoring night to beat St. Louis. Defenseman Bob Wojtowich assisted on three of the Minnesota goals.

Ab McDonald converted Andy Bathgate's rebound for Pittsburgh's tying goal against Philadelphia in the final five minutes of play. The Flyers and goalie Bernie Parent had nursed a 1-0 lead provided by Bill Sutherland's second period goal until McDonald tied it.

Bobcats to Play Host to Nashville

By RALPH ROUNTON
 Star Sportswriter

Tomorrow evening the Hope Bobcats will finish up one of the weirdest campaigns in recent history, 1967, by playing host to the Nashville Scrappers in a game which past records will be thrown out the window.

It's been quite an emotional season, with many heartbreaking moments. Provided an opportunity, this writer went to Scrapperville; I mean Nashville. This was just yesterday, so the excursion is still fresh on my mind.

As you know, Nashville has had good success in the past years playing football, and this year is enjoying an exceptional record of 8-1. But one thing different about Nashville from other towns is that the whole citizenry from there follows their athletic teams, no matter what the sport or locale. This kind of backing goes a long way toward a successful football history.

That wasn't to condemn Hope, but just to emphasize what confidence and support can do to an athletic program. It seems as though that athletic breakthrough toward domination is near to Hope High School. The outstanding athletic plant at the school, plus new football and basketball uniforms this year, and possibilities of new track suits before spring.

These things, along with your attendance at the events, are the requirements. Once fulfilled, the rest usually takes care of itself. Look at the University of Arkansas, Alabama, Notre Dame, or Southern Cal. At these institutions a spirit exists that is hard to define. If you think you know the secret definition, come to one of the student pep rallies for the Bobcats before each game. It could be labeled "electricity."

Anyway, in 1957 the Bobcats had a mediocre record, but returned the next year to capture the state championship in '58. Let's hope that history repeats itself. And plan in your repertoire Hope-Nashville, Hammons Stadium, 7:30 p.m., tomorrow night. It will be worth it.

San Diego State Still Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 North Dakota State's 41-7 victory over Morningside in its season finale coupled with Wayneburg's unexpected 7-0 setback by Fairmont, W.Va., has enabled the Bison from Fargo, N.D., to replace the Yellow Jackets in second place in The Associated Press' small-college football poll today.

San Diego State, idle last week, maintained its solid lead in the latest voting by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday.

The Aztecs collected six votes for first-place and 143 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. San Diego State, 7-0, has an over-all winning streak of 23 games.

North Dakota State, completing its regular campaign with a 9-0 mark, advanced one position. The Bison drew 127 points, including 30 for three first-place votes. ND State will play in the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 in Abilene, Tex.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:
 1. San Diego State (6) 143
 2. North Dakota St. (3) 127
 3. Eastern Kentucky (2) 150
 4. New Mex. Highlands (1) 75
 5. Wayneburg 65
 6. Texas at Arlington 65
 7. Lamar Tech 40
 8. No. Michigan 37
 9. Texas A&I 23
 10. Southwest Texas St. 22

Thinks Hope and Yerger Will Lose

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
 At least two of the three Class AAA division titles could be decided Friday night when six of the top eight teams in the state get together.

Fort Smith Northside, 4-0 in the Central Division and the top-rated team in the state, plays at North Little Rock, ranked fifth. NLR does not have a chance at any of the title but could force the Grizzlies to share the championship with Little Rock Hall.

Hall, 3-1 in the conference and No. 2 in the state, hosts El Dorado, No. 8. Hall must beat the Wildcats and get help from NLR to have a chance at a title tie. The Warriors play Little Rock Central on Thanksgiving.

Texarkana and Springdale play at Texarkana for the Western Division title and the No. 3 spot in the state. Texarkana is No. 3 and Springdale No. 4. Both have lost only to Fort Smith Northside.

Although Northside lost to North Little Rock last year when ranked No. 1 in the state, Coach Bill Stancil may have one of his best teams.

Northside 14, NLR 7.
 Hall can't afford to look past El Dorado or watch the goings-on across the river but the Warriors have had two weeks to prepare for the Wildcats.

Hall 20, El Dorado 10.
 Texarkana has Mike Saint and Springdale boats Steve Brown, the leading scorer in Class AAA, but the Razorbacks also have quarterback Randy Hickerson and are at home.

Texarkana 20, Springdale 14.
 West Memphis, ranked ninth in the state, and Forrest City play for the Region 2AA title at Forrest City. West Memphis is 8-0-1 and Forrest City 8-1-1.

West Memphis 13, Forrest City 7.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, who usually works his Razorbacks in pads on Wednesdays, but them through a 75-minute drill in sweat clothes this week because some of the players were "bruised and sore."

"We want to have the players fresh for Saturday's game," Broyles said.

The Razorbacks play Rice Saturday afternoon at Houston. Broyles said they would leave Fayetteville Friday morning and work out in Rice's stadium Friday afternoon.

Broyles said the Razorbacks would practice in sweat clothes about an hour today.

Royals Shot Down by a Small Bullet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Cincinnati Royals were shot down by a small caliber Bullet.

Guard Johnny Egan—listed in the National Basketball Association guide as 5-foot-11, making him the league's smallest player—gunned in 26 points Wednesday night and helped the Baltimore Bullets snap a six-game losing streak with a 122-100 victory over the Royals.

St. Louis, hotter than a pistol in the Western Division, won its 13th game in 14 starts, 111-96 over Seattle; Detroit edged New York 110-106 and Philadelphia downed San Diego 129-111 in other scheduled NBA games.

In American Basketball Association action, New Jersey drubbed Pittsburgh 120-97, Minnesota outlasted Kentucky 106-92, Indiana defeated New Orleans 109-101, Denver whipped Oakland 118-97 and Anaheim beat Houston 194-109.

Egan sparked the Bullets to a 17-0 burst in the final three minutes of the third quarter as they built up an 87-71 lead at the end of the period. He then scored 17 of his points in the final quarter as the Bullets coasted home.

Gus Johnson added 24 points and Earl Monroe 22 to the Bullets. Happy Hairston scored 28 and Jerry Lucas 29 for the Royals.

Dick Snyder pumped in 21 points, Zelmo Beaty 20 and Len Wilkens 18 for the Royals, which broke a 16-10 tie in the first period and had no trouble from there on. Walt Hazzard topped the scorers with 20.

Bob Fuler added 16 for the Hawks. Gene Thompson was expected for fighting in the end of the first half.

Detroit surged from a five-point deficit, 84-79, after three quarters to an 11-point lead, 119-

Caldwell Is Doing Better in the ABA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Jim Caldwell's rookie season in the American Basketball Association is off to a much better start than his short-lived venture in the National Basketball Association.

In his first game with New Jersey of the ABA after being cut by the NBA New York Knicks, Caldwell scored 14 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in the Americans' 120-97 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

The 6-foot-10 center, who signed Monday, got 12 of his rebounds in the first half as New Jersey took a 41-38 lead. Tony Jackson, was the high scorer with 33 points for the Americans. Chico Vaughn had 26 for the Pipers.

In other games, Indiana beat New Orleans 103-101, Minnesota topped Kentucky 106-92, Denver whipped Oakland 118-97 and Anaheim edged Houston 194-100.

In the NBA, Philadelphia beat San Diego 129-114, Baltimore whipped Cincinnati 122-100, Detroit edged New York 110-106, and St. Louis humbled Seattle 111-96.

Bob Netolicky topped Indiana with 25 points while James Jones had 26 for New Orleans. The Buccaneers moved within three points late in the game, but the Pacers pulled away in the final minute.

Mel Daniels scored 25 points for Minnesota and also hauled in 22 rebounds as the Muskies took an early lead and held onto it without trouble. Darrell Carrier scored 20 points for the Colonels.

Six quick points by rookie Julian Hammond broke open a close game and Denver pulled away for its win over Oakland before 6,026, Denver's largest turnout of the season.

Hammond finished with 23 points, the same as Wayne Lightowage although Lefty Thomas was high with 26. Vern Fart led Oakland with 31.

Les Delvaug and Ben Warley sank two free throws each in the last 25 seconds to give Anaheim its squeaker over Houston. Larry Bunce was high for the winners with 24 points. Wilbert Frazier topped Houston with 31.

Hunters Are Reminded of Certain Rules

That cherished season of all hunters is here again. Thousands of hunters are now daily going into the woods and field to enjoy the blessings of mother nature in Hempstead County.

First of all we should remember that 95 percent of us are hunting on the other man's land and that this is a privilege and not a right. We should therefore do everything that we can to protect the forest we use. Forest for Buster A. Denton said.

The vegetation that was lush green a few weeks ago is in the cured stage now and all that is needed to cause a destructive fire is one careless act with a match, cigarette, or campfire.

Since this is true we take the privilege of suggesting these ten rules to follow that will make a good sportsman.

Be sure of the identity of the target before you pull the trigger. Be sure when your gun is loaded or unloaded.

Be a guest on the other man's land not a trespasser. Be sure to leave gates closed.

Never leave your match or campfire to go out alone.

Always obey game laws. When hunting don't drink; when drinking don't hunt.

Be sure your cigarette is dead out before throwing it down in dry leaves or grass.

If you build a warming fire, take a wide area around it and cover it with dry dirt before leaving.

If you find a woods fire that you can't extinguish yourself, please notify your forest ranger or any law enforcement agency.

Super Bowl Gross Over $3 Million

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tickets went up for grabs today for pro football's Super Bowl game, with virtually certain prospects that it will be the first game in history to gross in excess of $3 million.

Inaugurated last January in the Los Angeles Coliseum, the playoff between National and American Football League champions was transferred to Miami's Orange Bowl and will be played Jan. 14.

The initial game was a disappointment, financially and artistically. Only 63,036 fans attended and the NFL's Green Bay Packers routed the Kansas City Chiefs 35-10.

An expected sellout of the 75,546-seat Orange Bowl would bring in $706,822. Television and radio revenue, up this year from $2 million to $2.5 million, would make the total gross $3,296,822.

This would top by more than one-half million the $2,762,360 grossed at Los Angeles.

In a release to a news conference here, football Commission public ticket sales would be handled by the Orange Bowl committee and that the 13,000 holders of season tickets for the Miami Dolphin games would be given priorities in ticket purchases.

The 52,450 seats between the goal lines were priced at $12. Another 14,423 behind the goal lines will be $8 and end zone seats $6. Lower priced tickets will be placed on public sale at the Orange Bowl starting Nov. 27.

Approximately 55,000 tickets will be available to the public, $14,000 by mail order and 21,000 at the windows. The two competing teams will be allocated 7,000 tickets each and the other pro clubs will receive additional priorities.

Players and coaches of the winning team will receive $15,000 each. Losing players and coaches will get $7,500. Of the remaining net receipts, 50 per cent will go to the player benefit plans of the two leagues, five per cent to each competing club, 10 per cent to each league office, and 20 per cent to the commissioner's office.

The game, to be televised and broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System, will be blacked out within a 75-mile radius of Miami.

Complete Abstinence Best for 'Alcoholic'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My niece drinks a lot. Is there any drug that is safe that she could take to stop drinking?

A—Disulfiram can be given for this purpose but only under medical supervision. It is dangerous to give it without the full knowledge and consent of the patient.

Q—My father-in-law, 79, drinks a half-gallon of wine a day. He appears to be in good health. Will the wine hurt his liver? If so, how can we get him to cut down his wine intake or give it up?

A—Wine is a great comfort to some elderly persons and, although in time it will damage the liver, this is a chance many are willing to take when they feel that their productive life is behind them. The only way to get anyone to cut his intake of alcohol is for the person himself to be convinced that it is detrimental to his health or family relationships and to want very much to stop drinking.

Q—Two years ago my husband was told that he has cirrhosis of the liver. Since then he has given up drinking except for an occasional social drink every week or two. Would this amount harm him?

A—Since alcohol poisons the liver, anyone with liver disease should abstain completely. On the other hand the liver has great regenerative powers and in two years may have recovered much of its function. Your husband should have liver function tests made to determine the present status of his liver. If the tests show the slightest loss of function, he should meet his social obligations by drinking a bloody Mary without the vodka, a bitter lemon without the gin or a concoction without the whisky.

Q—What effect will three or four shots of liquor (and sometimes much more) have on a man? Will it affect his co-ordination?

A—Allowing at least an hour between each drink, it will have very little immediate effect but over a period of 15 or 20 years it may cause cirrhosis of the liver. Taken at a faster rate it will cause intoxication with impairment of judgment and muscular co-ordination.

Q—How do niacin and vitamin B help an alcoholic?

A—Alcohol destroys the victim's vitamin B (including niacin). Injection of vitamin B complex into a vein helps to counteract the alcohol and shorten the hangover period.

Q—What are the symptoms of alcoholic arthritis?

A—The symptoms of any arthritis are pain and swelling in the joints but I can find no evidence that any of the many kinds of arthritis are caused by alcohol.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In 1908, Henry Ford introduced the Model T Ford the "Tin Lizzie." Few inventions have had a more profound social effect on American life than the Model T. The World Almanac notes that the "model" of the roadside hamburger stand, the "consolidated" country schoolhouse, improved roads and appreciated personal mobility all developed with the Model T.

Tibet's Rainfall

Although rainfall in the Himalayas often reaches 200 inches annually during the monsoon season, the rest of Tibet is one of the driest areas in the world, with a precipitation of less than eight inches per year.

QUICK QUIZ

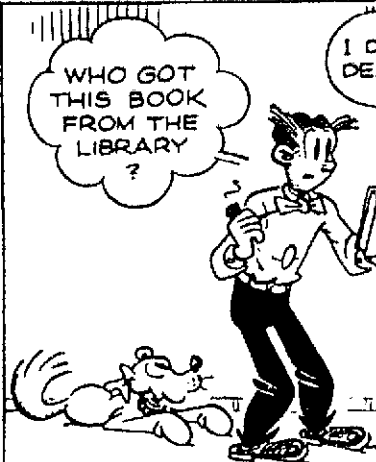

Q—Who maintains Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington?

A—Mount Vernon has been restored and is maintained by the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association, founded by Miss Anna Cunningham of South Carolina.

Q—Does the sunlight that falls on the earth have any weight?

A—Yes. Light has appreciable weight—or pressure. The light pressure on the surface of the earth is given as two pounds per square mile.

Mets Finally Get Power Hitting Lefty

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets have been seeking a left-handed power hitter and they feel they got him Wednesday in a trade with Cincinnati for Art Shamsky, a first baseman-outfielder.

The 26-year-old Shamsky, who once hit four consecutive homers for the Reds, comes to the Mets in exchange for 31-year-old infielder Bob Johnson.

"We traded age for power," said Bing Devine, general manager of the Mets. "Johnson did a good job for us, but we have few left-handed hitters and we think Shamsky will help our bench."

Johnson hit .348 last season compared to Shamsky's .197, but the Mets believe Shamsky can hit the long ball for them. He hit 21 homers in 1966, the year he got his four consecutive homers against Pittsburgh.

It was Devine's 19th deal since he succeeded George Weiss as Mets' general manager a year ago.

November 11—Veterans Day

November 11 is observed as Veterans Day. The name loses something from, and gains something over, its former name—Armistice Day. Originally it was the observation of the cease-fire of the First World War, the Armistice of Nov. 11, 1918. Thus it is a sort of Victory Day, or End-of-the-War Day. WW2 had two more end-of-the-war days (VE and VJ Day). Then came Korea with its cease-fire. So Armistice Day was changed, as a sort of "holiday saver," to Veterans Day, to mark on just one day the end of all wars of this century, though they occurred on different dates. Not a day to memorialize the suffering of veterans, Veterans Day instead marks their achievements. Angela Calomiris' strong photo, above, taken in a VA hospital, reminds us though that there are still veterans who, after several decades, have not enjoyed and never will enjoy the full fruits of those achievements, but must celebrate from the inside looking out.

McMath Raps Fulbright's War Policy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright advanced and supported the policies that led to U.S. intervention in the Vietnam War, which he now opposes, former Gov. Sid McMath told the Foreign Relations Club at Little Rock University Wednesday.

"Now that our troops in pursuance of these policies, are engaged in combat, the senator tells us that the war is 'unjust,' that America has become 'arrogant with power.' That the Communists are just 'agrarian reformers,' that the threat of communism to the security of this country and to the peace of the world is a 'myth' and not a 'reality,'" he said.

"Which Sen. Fulbright shall we follow? The champion of the SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) Treaty and the sponsor of the Tonkin resolution, or the Sen. Fulbright who now believes that communism has become a respectable, law abiding 'conservative' force in world affairs?" he asked.

McMath, a major general in the Marine Corps Reserve and one of Fulbright's potential opponents in the 1968 Democratic Primary, said that what the senator proposes now is, in effect, "that we negotiate our surrender — that we neutralize Vietnam by our withdrawal."

"The effect and repercussion from this course of action could well balance the scales against the United States in this protracted conflict with communism in the Far East," McMath said.

He said that in 1954, Fulbright supported President Eisenhower in obtaining Senate approval of the SEATO agreement that "committed us to defend this area of the world," and that in 1964, he sponsored the Tonkin Gulf Resolution supporting — in advance — any action President Johnson might take in Vietnam.

"Our commitments and trials and tribulations in Vietnam are a direct result of policies which the senator himself advanced and championed," he said.

McMath said the war should be prosecuted under the unified command of an American general and called for a quarantine of Haiphong harbor and acceleration of the civilian action program. He said the South Vietnamese army should be led and committed more effectively.

During a question-and-answer session, McMath said he had no plans to run against Fulbright or to re-enter politics.

Tells of Hate Whitey School in Nashville

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayor of Nashville, Tenn., saying problems in the antipoverty program in his city included operation of a "hate whitey" school, asserted they resulted from an irresponsible supervising commission.

The makeup of the commission, said Mayor Beverly Briley, was governed by the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

Briley told the Senate Investigations subcommittee probing last summer's racial disorders that the antipoverty program initially was a success in Nashville. At that time, he testified Wednesday, he was empowered to name members of the Metropolitan Action Commission, the group which supervised the program.

But Briley said, the commission became irresponsible after OEO headquarters in Washington issued guidelines requiring that two-thirds of the members be elected as representatives of the various city neighborhoods. Congress is considering legislation to give local government officials authority over the antipoverty programs.

Briley added that the widespread publicity about the school has shaken up the commission and, "I believe now we might get more responsible action out of it."

In testimony last August before the Senate Judiciary Committee, Nashville police Capt. John A. Sorace said the school taught Negro children "pure unadulterated hatred of the white race." He said it was staffed by members of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

Following Sorace's testimony, federal antipoverty funds were withdrawn from the project.

Elliott M. Appleman, a subcommittee investigator, said information about the school's teaching material was provided to the Nashville commission and OEO offices in Atlanta and Washington last May and June.

Mike Garrett Named Back of the Week

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer Mike Garrett's spontaneous but don't hurt much any more but now the New York Jets' defensive line isn't feeling very good.

Garrett shredded the Jets' front four for 192 yards in 23 carries last Sunday as Kansas City routed New York 42-18. The performance made Garrett the Associated Press' choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"I felt better spiritually and physically than I have all year," said Garrett, after his giants had run the Jets ragged. The 1965 Heisman Trophy winner has been troubled by sore toes and banged up ankles this season.

"They still hurt when I stub my toe," Garrett went on, "but I think my feet feel great again." They were great against the Jets with a variety of slices and cuts gaining yardage in huge chunks.

His baffling moves had the Jets lunging and grabbing but rarely stopping him. "Some of it is artistic," said Garrett of his moves. "Some of it is spontaneous."

Then he thought a moment. Most of it, he smiled, "is spontaneous."

Garrett's running moved into second place among AFL rushers behind Boston's Jim Nance, who had another big day in the Patriots' 18-7 victory over Houston.

The power running fullback charged for 108 yards in 26 carries, bringing his season's total to 822, 151 more than Garrett.

Nance's running ended a string of two subpar performances against New York and Oakland in which he managed barely over 50 yards gained in each game.

Has Reason for Wanting a Big Day

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linebacker Maxie Baughan of the Los Angeles Rams has special reasons for a big day against the Philadelphia Eagles here today.

"I've been waiting for this since I joined the team two years ago," he says. "I spent six years with the Eagles. I felt like I did at UCLA Tech before our annual coming game."

"I don't suppose I'll play any more," he says, "but I sure want to have a good showing."

Baughan doesn't go into detail, but it is a fact that he faced the Eagles to trade him for George Allen landed him on the Rams.

Baughan has great respect for the Eagles' quarterback, Norm Snead. He has the size of the "Roman Gabriel, can fight in the rush and statistically, he's the No. 2 quarterback in the National Football League."

"We seem to catch a hot pass every week now," Maxie observed.

The San Francisco 49ers provided that Baughan jammed Snead's signals in the game at San Francisco Sunday which Los Angeles won 17-7. Maxie said he'll continue to call the defensive code signals at the line.

The sea cucumber is a water creature that looks like the common garden vegetable. It attaches itself to rocks with suction cups and feeds on small sea creatures it catches with slimy tentacles surrounding its mouth.

Airs Russian Revolution 50 Years Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's been like watching a Russian bear eat an electric light bulb. Surprise, convulsions, indigestion, internal bleeding, thrashing around half out of mind and digestion restored have all been part of the process since the Bolsheviks took over the Russian revolution 50 years ago today.

Surprise—The Bolsheviks were caught flatfooted, unprepared for the takeover when the revolution began. They got themselves together, grabbed their chance, and communism has been in charge since.

Convulsion—The beginning was dreadful: The struggle with the other factions which were split and indecisive; civil war; and economic collapse.

Indigestion—Lenin and his Bolsheviks started out as the apostles of Karl Marx. But they twisted Marxism to suit their needs. And Lenin even partly restored capitalism for a while.

Internal bleeding—From the beginning there was a blood bath. It became a hemorrhage in the 1930s with Stalin's purges and executions, his device for eliminating rivals, real or imaginary.

Half out of mind—Stalin was a mental case, one of the most vicious in history, who reigned through terror for 29 years from the time Lenin died in 1924 until his own death in 1953.

But while terror was his weapon, power was his language. Under him a primitive nation became a world power, with all that meant. For only a brief moment the United States had a nuclear monopoly. Stalin quickly broke it.

Digestion restored—With Stalin's death, some sanity was restored, restrictions were eased, and the Soviet Union began to look a little more like a civilized society, starting with Nikita Khrushchev, later dumped, in the 1950s.

After all this agony the most obvious question, one which must fill every other nation with apprehension, is: What will happen inside the Soviet Union and what will it do in these next 50 years?

No one in his right mind will try to predict it. Through their whole history the Russian people have known nothing but submission to autocrats, some more fierce and bloody than others.

20 per cent of the white ballots. Ray C. Bliss, Republican national chairman, boasted of sharp reductions in Democratic majorities in some big cities, noting that the last GOP nominee in Cleveland got only 17 per cent of the vote. But that party-line analysis ignored the racial factor.

Stokes could become a featured Democratic performer, particularly in Negro areas, during the 1968 election campaign. And Cleveland could be crucial in determining which party wins Ohio's electoral votes.

In Gary, Negro Richard G. Hatcher won by 1,389 votes, but his Republican rival, Joseph Radigan, challenged the victory with charges of voting irregularities.

Kevin H. White, Massachusetts secretary of state, was elected mayor of Boston by 102,551 votes to 90,122 for Mrs. Hicks in another close contest marked by racial dispute.

Mrs. Hicks stirred controversy with her total opposition to the transportation of Negro children to white neighborhood schools for the sake of racial balance. White carried predominantly Negro neighborhoods by a margin of about 3 to 1.

Scanning the outcome, in which a Negro was elected to the Virginia Legislature and another won in Mississippi, Whitney M. Young Jr., director of the National Urban League, said: "While the backlash is there, it is not as powerful as the demagogues would have us believe."

There were other Negro victories—six for Mississippi county offices, one to the Boston City Council, others to local posts scattered from New England to the South.

James Farmer, former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the elections proved Negro voters are growing in sophistication and independence, developing "a swing vote which can just as well go independent as support either party."

The shape of the backlash vote will take on additional importance in 1968 if, as expected, Alabama's former Gov. George C. Wallace, a segregationist, mounts his third-party campaign for the presidency.

Furthermore, the significance of city pluralities in a statewide race is far different from that in a local election. Democrats often count on an outpouring of city support to balance Republican can ballots in outlying and rural areas.

Bliss underscored that point in noting that Philadelphia's Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate was re-elected by some 11,000 votes, compared with a 65,000-vote Democratic plurality in the last city hall race there.

However, the patronage and power Tate will hold through his re-election over Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter could also be a key factor in a close statewide contest next year.

Democrats held the Mississippi State House with the landslide election of Rep. John Bell Williams as governor. But Williams has been at odds with his national party for years and could tend toward support of Wallace in 1968.

Nunn's victory in Kentucky gives the GOP command of 26 governorships, their first majority in that department since 1954. They are now in charge of states with 304 electoral votes, 34 more than it takes to name a president.

Nunn had campaigned against President Johnson's policy in Vietnam, and he said his victory was not going unnoticed at the White House.

President Johnson had no comment on any of the election returns.

Republicans sought to make Johnson and the war an issue in New Jersey, where they reversed Democratic control of the state legislature. "National issues and national unrest cannot help but have affected the vote," said GOP State Chairman Webster B. Todd.

And Michigan Gov. George Romney, on the verge of an announcement that he will run against Johnson, said the elections "dramatically confirmed the desire of the people for new leadership."

Indeed, if there was a common denominator in the local elections that dotted the nation, it appeared to have been a readiness to switch leaders—but without a clear pattern favoring either party.

A Democrat took over from a Republican in Tucson, Ariz., a Republican won in Democratic Manchester, N.H.; Democrats gained five mayors in New Jersey. Republicans picked up seven, a Republican who likened the Democratic incumbent to President Johnson took over in Indianapolis, in Toledo, Ohio, the party switch went the other way.

Republicans outscored Democrats in Indiana. Twenty-two mayor's offices switched to GOP hands, 14 which had been controlled by Republicans were taken over by Democrats.

Children Saw Father Kill Their Mother

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Three of Joel V. Turnbow's 14 children saw him kill their mother and then end his own life with a shot in the head Wednesday.

It was the grim climax to one of many quarrels between the unemployed trucker, 45, and his ex-wife Marie, 42, who had divorced him March 3.

Nine of their children still lived with the mother, and her death raised a question of where they will find a home. Before the day was over, however, there was talk of keeping them together.

Nita Turnbow, 20, and two sisters still too young for school—Tina, 5, and Cindy, 4—were among the shocked witnesses to the shootings.

They saw Mrs. Turnbow run outside the East Fort Worth home during an argument which developed an hour after the trucker arrived in the forenoon.

Turnbow caught his former wife in a neighbor's yard, threw her to the ground and shot her three times with a .22-caliber pistol, Nita told Detective W.T. Fary. Then Turnbow fired a bullet into his brain.

A medical examiner entered a verdict of murder and suicide. Nita said her mother tried to telephone for police but was unable to make the call because the lines had been cut.

"He always told mother, 'I'll kill you and myself if you get a divorce,'" related Dora Morgan, one of the couple's older daughters.

Mrs. Morgan said a family council will be held as soon as all can get together and they will decide what to do about her younger brothers and sisters.

Besides Nina, Tina and Cindy, those still living at home are Linda, 16; Robert, 14; Theresa, 12; Gary, 11; Valery, 9, and Mike, 6.

Rare Bird Makes Public Debut

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The only Aardvark ever known to survive birth in captivity will make her public debut this weekend at Crandon Park Zoo—with neither a name nor a fur coat.

The seven-week-old, 10-pound star of the park will have a cage of her own, but it will have to go in the reptile house. Crandon doesn't have an Aardvark house, officials explained.

the proposal submitted by India, Mali and Nigeria. He charged that it had been drawn up "in close consultation at every point" with Egypt, but without consultation with Israel.

Eban stressed that there must be no return to armistice boundary lines that existed before the June war. He said they must be "superseded by an agreed and secure permanent frontier."

The U.S. draft seeks "withdrawal of armed forces from occupied territory" but does not spell out which armed forces nor specify that all seized Arab land should be evacuated.

Eban insisted anew that direct talks with the Arabs was the only road to peace.

"It is for the sovereign governments of the area and not anyone else to determine by negotiation the situation to succeed the cease-fire," he declared.

The Security Council on Wednesday discussed the invasion of the Congo by white mercenaries last week, and Jean Umba Di Lutete, Congolese vice minister of foreign affairs, asked the body to impose sanctions on Portugal, saying that the invading force came from Portuguese Angola.

Portugal's Francisco Bonifacio de Miranda replied: "We have never allowed bases in our territory nor consented that our territory be used in any way for attacks against the Congo."

Credit Rating Is Requested

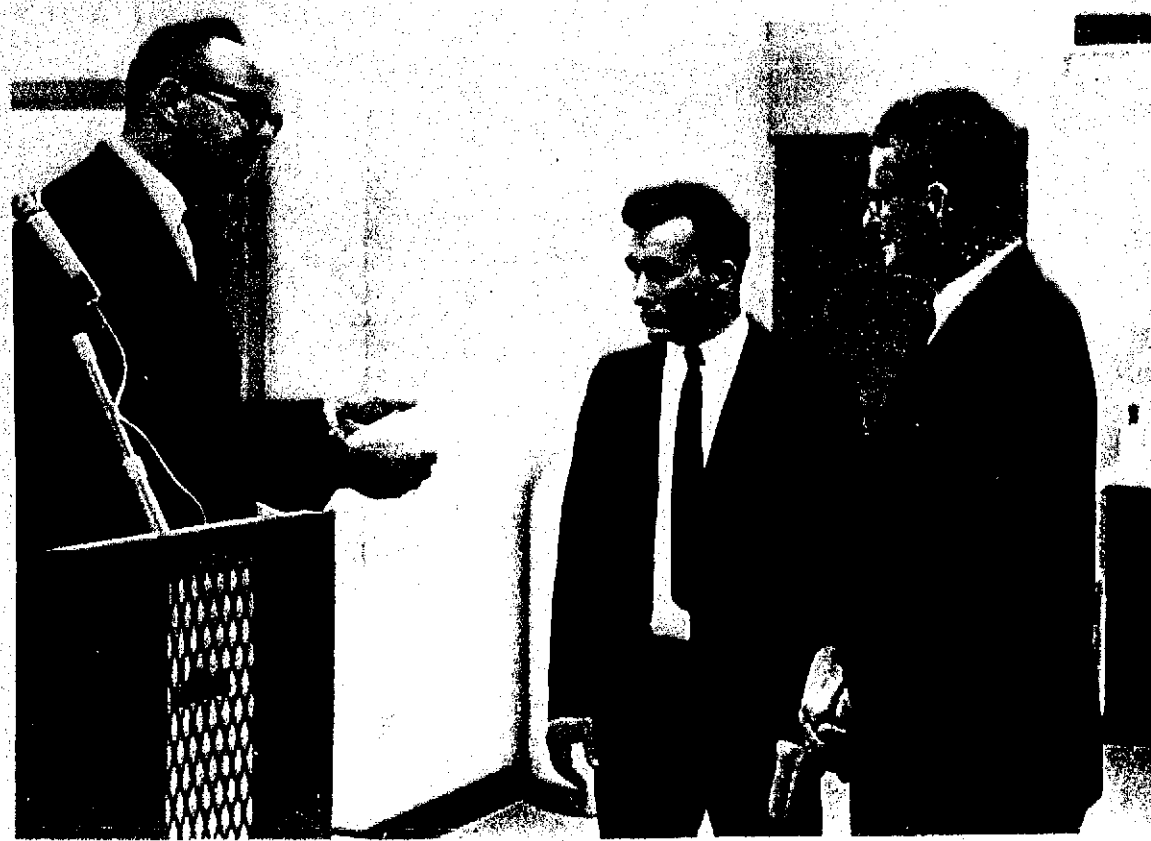

ROBOTH, Mass. (AP) — When a town employee suggested that the town hall needed a dormitory on which people could wipe their feet, officials asked various businesses how much such a mat could be rented for.

Monday night, to their consternation and amusement, the selectmen received a letter from an unidentified laundry and dry cleaning firm. It offered a $1.50 monthly rental fee—accompanied by a form inquiring about the customer's credit rating.

It was the first time anyone had questioned the town's financial ability to pay a $1.50 monthly bill but the selectmen swallowed their discomfiture nobly and moved on to other business, taking no action on the dormitory for the present.

Itan became a territory by congressional action in 1850 according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Joan Crosby's TV Notebook

NEW YORK—(NEA)—We, the people of the United States, are soon to receive something Britons have had for many years—Wisdom.

Mention the name of Norman Wisdom in England and you are talking of the country's top box office money maker. Mention his name in America and, unless you have seen him on television with Johnny Carson and Ed Sullivan, or in the musical "Walking Happy," you'll hear, "Who?"

That will be changed after Nov. 15. That's the evening when slight, wispy and endearing Wisdom will appear on NBC-TV in Richard Rodgers' musical version of George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion." He plays Androcles, the henpecked, frightened, animal-loving hero in a fine cast which includes Noel Coward, Ed Ames, Inga Swenson, Brian Bedford, John Collum and Patricia Routledge.

Wisdom has made several score of English films. You wonder why so many years lapsed before he came over here. "That was due to the fact that I was content," he smiled. "Then I realized I was being taken for granted by filmmakers and agents. Two years ago I went to my producers and told them I would like to do something else, something with depth. But they are reluctant to change a formula because they like to hear a cash register ringing."

When he couldn't convince anyone to give him a different role, he began to look around. That's when he was offered the musical "Walking Happy." He accepted and began a new career.

"Now imagine, I'm playing Shaw's Androcles. If I had said to a producer in England, 'How about letting me play Androcles?' they would have laughed and said, 'Oh, Norman, you're so funny.' Now that I have done the part, however, I'm getting offers from them for different roles."

An American film is probably next on Wisdom's schedule. Producer Ross Hunter is thinking of teaming him with Carol Channing. The idea is delicious.

Because he is so slight, Norman finds "women always want to mother me. They say, 'Oh, isn't he cute?' and they put their arms around me and my eyes begin to glisten. Then it turns out they want to mother me and that's not what I have in mind at all."

Once again, the Indian is biting the dust.

Michael Dante, tall, athletic and handsome, made such a good impression playing Crazy Horse on ABC-TV's series Custer, that he was promised bigger and better roles when the series resumed production.

Option time for the low-rated series is fast approaching and the indications are production will not be resumed. And there's not a soul Dante can Sioux.

While the series displeased American Indians, making, as it did, a hero of a controversial figure, Dante's portrayal of the Sioux chief pleased them.

Newsprint production is rising in the United States, falling in Canada — reflecting the continued expansion of the paper industry in our Southern states. Newsprint, the coarse white paper on which newspapers are printed, isn't the whole paper story but it's an important indicator.

Our Southern Newspaper Publishers Association puts the survey together from data furnished by the Newsprint Division of the American Paper Institute, New York, and the Newsprint Association of Canada, Montreal, and comes up with this summary:

Newsprint production for the United States in September was 208,999 tons, a gain of 8.6 per cent over September a year ago. Canadian production was 641,405 tons, a decline of 5.3 per cent. For the entire nine months of 1967 the United States shows production of 1,966,136 tons, up 10.2 per cent. Canadian production for the same period is 6,092, 653 tons, a drop of 3.5 per cent.

So what you have here is a definite trend, bolstered by your special information that the United States increase is coming from the establishment of new mills rather than mere production gains from existing mills.

Credit for this bonanza for the South goes to the late Dr. Charles Holmes Herty of Savannah, Ga. Originally the United States manufactured most of the paper it used. But with spruce forests dwindling in the Northern states and rising labor costs the industry gradually moved northward until, by 1940, the U.S.A. depended almost entirely on Canada for its newsprint supply.

Dr. Herty changed this with a dramatic chemical discovery. He had noted the economic advantage for the South in its production of brown kraft paper from pine cordwood, which grows many times faster than Northern spruce. But pine's resin stain prevented the production of white newsprint.

What Dr. Herty discovered in his laboratory at Savannah was that pine growth at 12 years had no more resin content than spruce, and at 12 years' growth pine made acceptable paper pulp. Dr. Herty in the 1930s turned out a pilot shipment of Southern pine pulp in his Savannah laboratory, shipped it to a Northern mill to be made into a test run of newsprint — and nine Georgia dailies got out test editions on this paper.

I obtained copies of these nine Georgia dailies and exhibited them on the picture bulletin board of the old Hope Star Building, where the new one now stands.

Dr. Herty's discovery was monumental. Southern publishers, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Texas bankers, put together the first pine newsprint mill in the world near Lufkin, Texas, calling the new town and freight station Herty, after the discoverer.

It was a magnificent financial success. A second pine mill went up on the Coosa River in Alabama, a third at Mobile, Ala., a fourth at Pine Bluff, Ark., — and now there are so many they are cutting into Canada's monopoly.

Wherever water and pine trees meet there you may have a Southern pine newsprint mill — all because a Southern chemist had a vision three decades ago and made something substantial out of it.

Hard to Catch Racing Thief

NEW YORK (AP) — To catch a thief may be a bit difficult when he has stolen a pair of racing bicycles designed to go as fast as 70 miles an hour.

But the speed could also lead to the thief's downfall, Charles Cunningham, owner of the racers, warned Wednesday. The bikes built for track racing have no brakes.

Chrysler, Union in Agreement

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers union, after 34 consecutive hours of bargaining, have a tentative agreement today on a contract covering 95,000 UAW members.

Despite the agreement, some workers were on walkout that hobbled Chrysler output.

Negotiators were too weary Wednesday night to continue bargaining on contract provisions covering 8,000 salaried workers the UAW represents at Chrysler, but spokesman said they hoped to have these problems solved by the weekend.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther called it "the best agreement we've ever had" — even bigger than the estimated 6 per cent gains the union got at Ford two weeks ago to end a 46-day strike.

Almost identical to the Ford pact, the Chrysler contract provides wage and fringe benefit gains of more than $1 an hour, with some wage gains alone amounting to 93 cents an hour over the three-year life of the pact.

The union also achieved at Chrysler the only major demand it failed to win at Ford — pay parity for Canadians, who, by mid-1970, will be paid the same amount per job as their American counterparts.

The Chrysler accord came less than four hours before a Wednesday midnight strike deadline, which the UAW immediately dissolved. But by then Chrysler plants employing 35,000 were out of action because of walkouts by workers who jumped the gun on the strike deadline.

The corporation's car production sagged by 64 per cent and truck output was completely stopped by the walkouts, which lingered on today.

Reuther said the union would try to get strikers back to work "as soon as possible."

Canadian parity was the only major difference between the Ford and Chrysler agreements. Ford's Canadian subsidiaries are not wholly owned, so Ford's U.S. bargainers could not pledge parity for employees of Ford of Canada.

The UAW has sought parity since 1939, but only recently exerted extreme pressure to win it. Chrysler said the disparity would be eliminated from the paychecks of its 12,000 Canadian UAW members in these steps: 10 per cent on July 1, 1968; 10 per cent Dec. 1, 1968; 20 per cent June 1, 1969; 25 per cent Dec. 1, 1969; 30 per cent June 1, 1970.

Vultures Forsake the Everglade Wilderness for Plush Urban Life

By KAY BARTLETT
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's 20th century vultures — something like the swallows of Capistrano but more like the messy starlings of northern city halls — are back in town, once more forsaking the wilderness of the Everglades for gracious urban living.

Again they're soaring over bustling, neon-lit downtown Miami as though it were a game preserve.

The city-slicker vultures — with wing spreads up to six feet — decided 10 or 12 years ago that the Bude County courthouse, despite crowded conditions and the noise that goes with urban apartments, would make a good homestead.

Their less enlightened country cousins continued the tired, old migration to the Everglades.

"It's unique. I don't know of any other city where vultures roost on a building," said Dr. Oscar Owe, ornithologist at the University of Miami. "They usually don't favor civilization."

And the courthouse, one of the tallest buildings in downtown Miami, is the only building favored by the vultures, kin to the soaring condors of Peru and California.

Was the So-Called White Backlash Vote Really Defeated?

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans both claim comfort in the outcome of Tuesday's off-year elections — balloting which provided answers but also posed new questions about the mood of the electorate one year before the contest for the White House.

Chief among the questions was the 1968 potency of the so-called white backlash vote, defeated — but by tiny margins — with the election of Negro mayors in Cleveland and in Cary, Ind.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said those victories for Negro Democrats, coupled with Boston's rejection of the controversial Louise Day Hicks, "put the so-called white backlash in its place."

That place did not appear an insignificant one — particularly with the approach of statewide elections in which big-city pluralities often are the decisive factor.

Another item for the political strategists: The potential impact next year of the war in Vietnam. San Francisco voters rejected a proposal urging a cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal and President Johnson's Democratic supporters called it evidence of growing support for his policy. Republicans, on the other hand, raised the war issue in Kentucky and New Jersey and scored big victories.

Man Charged With Damaging U.S. Property

TEXARKANA — J. Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the FBI Dallas Division, announced Wednesday the arrest of a 24-year-old Emmet, Ark., man in connection with destruction of government property at Lone Star Ordnance Plant.

Shanklin said Alexander John Bell was arrested Oct. 28 at Prescott, he said Bell is charged in connection with damage inflicted on three separate occasions in May 1967, to gear in Building E-17 at Lone Star.

Bell appeared before U.S. Commissioner John G. Ragsdale of El Dorado on Oct. 28 where he waived preliminary hearing and was released on $500 bond.

Saturn 5 Performing Perfectly

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Saturn 5 super-rocket performed with remarkable precision in the early phases of its maiden test flight today and drilled into orbit the world's heaviest satellite, a space vehicle weighing an incredible 140 tons.

No matter what happened during the more than eight hours remaining in the mission, the Saturn 5, mightiest rocket ever assembled, took a huge step toward its development as a man-to-the-moon booster and as the "ultimate" rocket for U.S. exploration of space in the next two decades or more.

Still on the flight plan today were a critical second burn of the rocket's third stage and a screaming drive back through the atmosphere by an unmanned Apollo 4 moon ship that rode atop the rocket on this momentous test.

With its engines generating the combined power of more than 500 jet fighter planes, the Saturn 5 thundered into the sky at 7 a.m. (EST) in the most

New UN Try for Middle East Peace

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council is making a new attempt to break the Middle East deadlock despite signs of hardening positions by both Israel and Egypt.

Egypt requested a meeting of the 15-nation council this afternoon to deal with Israel's refusal to withdraw from territory it seized during the June war. A government spokesman told a news conference in Cairo there could be no move toward a settlement until Jewish forces pull back.

In New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told newsmen Egypt's demand that Israel withdraw without a peace treaty defining frontiers "is so irrational" that it is amazing to find it proposed.

Eban said that, because of its provisions for withdrawal, an Indian resolution aimed at promoting a settlement was unacceptable. He criticized a rival U.S. draft, contending it did not give enough stress to Israel's insistence on direct negotiations with the Arab states.

The Israeli Foreign Minister also found fault with a Japanese working paper circulating among council members. He said that, like the Indian resolution, it prejudices Israel's position on withdrawal.

Eban concentrated his fire on

New Officers Elected by Bar Group

The Southwest Arkansas Bar Association, at its regular November Dinner Meeting in Texarkana at the town house on Tuesday night, November 7, heard Associate Justice Conley Byrd of the Arkansas Supreme Court speak on Criminal Procedure, Rule 1. Associate Justice Lyle Brown was recognized and spoke briefly.

The Association passed unanimously a Resolution presented by Willis B. Smith praising and honoring Chancellor Judge Wesley Howard who retired on October 31.

Elected as officers of the Association for the ensuing year were John B. Hainen of De Queen, President; Nabors Shaw of Menlo, Vice - President; and Talbot Field, Jr., of Hope, Secretary-Treasurer.

On February 6, 1968, the Association will meet at Hope.

Leaders Say Failure of Antipoverty Bill Will Invite Disaster

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say Congress will be inviting a national disaster if it does not continue the antipoverty program with adequate funding.

The warning came as the House began consideration Wednesday of amendments to a bill that would authorize the Office of Economic Opportunity to carry on the program for two more years.

A group of religious leaders also endorsed the bill, calling for its passage on moral grounds.

With many members planning an early departure from the Capitol to attend Veterans Day ceremonies, no key votes are expected before next week.

A joint statement by the civil rights leaders said Congress made a commitment to help the poor when it passed the Economic Opportunity Act in 1964.

"We give solemn warning now that to break the national promise of three years ago would be to invite national disaster," they said.

Among those signing the statement were A. Philip Randolph, Whitney Young Jr., Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, heads of individual organizations who have banded together in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

The Interreligious Committee Against Poverty said in a statement that "strong, well-funded antipoverty legislation which assures maximum initiative of and self-determination by the poor, especially at the neighborhood level, will be the best insurance for the realization of justice for all persons in our society."

Signers of this statement included the Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Louis Stern, president of the National Jewish Welfare Board; and Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches.

As debate continued on the bill Wednesday it drew support from two members who have opposed antipoverty legislation in the past, Reps. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., and Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Senators Okay Hike in SS Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today, by a straight party-line vote of 11 to 6, a bill to increase Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the chairman, said it would increase cash benefits paid out under the Social Security program by $3.6 billion next year.

For 1968, the payroll tax rate of 4.4 per cent on employee and employer would remain unchanged, but the taxable wage base would be raised from $6,600 to $8,000 effective Jan. 1.

The higher benefit payments would be effective next March and would be reflected in checks sent out April 1.

The committee's Democrats voted solidly for the bill and the Republicans against it.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, the senior GOP member, said they felt the measure was irresponsibly financed.

Veterans Day Service Is Planned Here

Saturday morning, November 11, at 11:00, the local Post of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, will observe Veterans Day, with a Dedication Service at the County Memorial on Courthouse lawn, honoring those who gave their all for our Country during World Wars One and Two, Korea, Conflict and the Vietnam Crisis, and give recognition to all men who at this time are serving any place with our armed forces.

All veterans are urged to be present and take part in this dedication service to our fallen comrades. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars organizations invite the public to be in attendance for this service and pay their respects and tribute at this memorial service.

Reds Suffer a Severe 'Setback'

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen battled back today against new attacks from tough North Vietnamese regulars entrenched in the central highlands near Dak To. Gen. William C. Westmoreland said seven days of fighting in the area near Dak To has resulted in a "severe setback" for the Communists.

Initial field reports said American soldiers killed three more Communist troops in a two and a half hour skirmish today, while one more U.S. soldier was killed. This raised total casualties for the week in the area to 209 Communists and 45 Americans killed and 130 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Westmoreland flew to Dak To for a first-hand survey and on his return told newsmen in Saigon: "I believe the Communist forces have suffered a severe setback in their plans for operating in the Dak To area. The recent contact is a North Vietnamese attempt to recoup valuable propaganda lost during the recent Republic of Vietnam elections and National Day."

Other officers believed the upsurge of activity and the determined Communist resistance in the central highlands could be the prelude to a new Communist offensive there now that the monsoons have moved north.

The air war against North Vietnam cost the United States three Air Force planes and two F-4 Phantom fighters Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced, including an F4 Phantom downed by a Communist MIG21's air-to-air missile in a dogfight west of Hanoi.

Garner Didn't Wear Lace on His Tongue

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — John Nance Garner didn't wear lace on his tongue when he wanted to get to the point. But some people, who missed the point, thought he sounded more like Henry Wadsworth Longfellow than like Cactus Jack.

It was about 1934 and Garner, who died Tuesday at 98, was vice president. I was a reporter on a New Orleans newspaper. The night Garner arrived in town was a quiet one and it was late, around 10:30.

The city editor called me over and told me: "See what you can get out of Vice President Garner. He just got in from Washington. He's on his way home to Texas. He's probably over at the Texas and Pacific station." He sent a photographer along with me. We went to the T&P depot. There was a train getting ready to leave for Texas. The gateman was still letting a few straggling passengers through.

I asked him: "Did the vice president go through here yet?" "How would I know?" the gateman said. "We got about 10 of them. I don't know one from the other."

"I didn't know there were that many," I said. "I must have been misinformed. I thought we only had one vice president."

The gateman said: "What vice president are you talking about?" I said: "The vice president of the United States."

"Oh, I don't know," the gateman said. "He may have gone through. I don't know him. I thought you were talking about the T&P vice presidents. Go on through and go through the train and look for him."

The photographer and I got on the train. We didn't have much hope. The train was a long row of sleepers. And so far as I could see in that last car where we were all the berths were made up and all the curtains were drawn.

I told the photographer to go up front and start with the first car and work his way back. I told him to call out for the vice president and if he found him to come back and get me.

I started with the last car. With those curtains drawn, I didn't know whether anyone was still awake. It was the same in the second car, and in the third.

I walked through, calling out "Vice President Garner" and "Mr. Garner." No good in that last car. No good in the second. But halfway through the third a voice behind a curtain in a lower berth said, "Who wants him?"

It wasn't a gentle voice. It was kind of gritty. But I answered: "I do." The voice said: "Who are you?" I told him I was a newspaper reporter. The voice said: "Whaddya want?" I said: "I want to see you."

The voice said: "About what?" I said: "Get some clothes on and come on out. I want to talk to you."

The vice president of the United States, whom I still hadn't seen, said: "Hell, no, I ain't gonna git out of bed for nobody."

That finished that. I found the photographer and we went back to the office.

I wrote the story, pretty much like this one, at least in the details about the conversation. I didn't think it was much of a story, except for that last part: "Hell, no, I ain't gonna git out of bed for nobody."

But the managing editor, who died a few years ago, thought that was no way to have a vice president talking. So he changed it and when the paper came out it had Garner saying:

"No, indeed, I am not going to get out of bed for anyone."

Says Arkansas Solving Race Problems

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas will "win through" on its desegregation problems, but two years may not be enough time in which to do it, state Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Wednesday.

"It is rather difficult to project," he said. "In two years, you don't know what the reaction will be."

Ford was commenting on an announcement by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which said Wednesday that it expected most school districts to have completed desegregation by the fall of 1969.

"We are making significant progress, and in some places, satisfactory progress," Ford said. "We will eventually win through on the whole program if given enough time."

Ford said Arkansas now had 86 districts operating on a desegregated basis, 132 districts that have some desegregation, 171 all-white districts and six all-Negro districts.

He estimated that about three-fourths of the state's remaining dual systems could be eliminated by the fall of 1969. He said he didn't expect HEW's target date to disrupt the desegregation timetable for most Arkansas school districts, because the department's announcement recognized that some districts would not be able to meet it and said target dates would vary with individual school systems.

Ford said he hadn't seen any directives yet, but that he believed the announcement was "politically inclined to help bail out the Great Society."

Tribute Is Paid to John Nance Garner

UVALDE, Tex., AP—Mourners pay final tributes today to former Vice President John Nance Garner who died Tuesday just a few days before his 99th birthday.

A special memorial service was planned at 1:30 p.m. at Uvalde High School auditorium. The principal speaker is Dolph Briscoe Jr., prominent rancher, business man and friend of the Garner family for many years. Another speaker is Wayne Matthews, president of Southwest Texas Junior College to which Garner contributed generously.

All Uvalde schools and two town business were planned to close so students and employees could attend a 4 p.m. funeral service at a funeral home.

The Rev. Rumlly Timmons said he would conduct the regular Episcopal funeral service, about 15 minutes of prayers and Scripture readings without any sermon or eulogy.

The Rev. Mr. Timmons also will conduct a five-minute burial service at the Uvalde Cemetery where Garner's body will be placed beside the grave of Mrs. Garner who died in 1948.

The New Express was in operation for about 15 months.

Humphrey, Fulbright Clash Verbally

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly clashed verbally over administration aims in Southeast Asia at a White House briefing on Vietnam.

Humphrey reported Wednesday to President Johnson, Cabinet, Security Council members and lawmakers of both parties on his Southeast Asia survey trip at a session in which attending Senate and House members were allowed one question each.

In the course of this round-robin, Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is said to have contended the administration is taking conflicting positions on what it is trying to accomplish in Vietnam.

A persistent war policy critic, Fulbright reportedly cited the

Cleveland Mayor Picks Police Chief

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Mayor-elect Carl B. Stokes picked Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell Wednesday night to be his chief of police.

Stokes had said during his campaign that if elected he would replace Chief Richard Wagner.

Leaders in the Negro community have been critical of what they call poor police-community relations.

Stokes, Cleveland's first Negro mayor, said that he and Blackwell agreed with the "basic recommendations" of a controversial Little Hoover Commission report calling for more uniformed policemen on the streets and increased community relations efforts by the department.

The 64-year-old Blackwell has the reputation of being a tough, racket-busting policeman. For the past 10 years he has been in charge of the basic patrol.

Stokes called him "the man with the image, record and performance to meet the needs of fighting crime in the streets of Cleveland."

Wagner, 74, who was appointed to the job by outgoing Mayor Ralph S. Stokes four years ago, had said before Tuesday's election that he would resign, whoever won.

Blackwell was Stokes' third appointment. Shortly after he was named as winner of the election, he named Stanley Joseph J. McManamon, a friend and former police sergeant, as his deputy.

James S. Barnes, a former assistant police prosecutor, was picked by Stokes as chief police prosecutor. All three appointments are final.

Meanwhile, Republican Seth Taft has said that even though he congratulated Stokes Wednesday morning in his election, he may still use for a campaign.

FBI Probing Ballots in Gary, Ind.

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Mayor-elect Richard G. Hatcher began planning today for his "multiracial" administration while FBI agents investigated alleged irregularities in the mayoral election.

The Justice Department confirmed that federal agents were probing reports of fraudulent voting in Tuesday's election which gave the Negro Democrat a 1,389-vote victory over white Republican Joseph B. Radigan. James F. Turner of the department's civil rights division, said no court action was planned, pending outcome of the investigation.

Radigan said irregularities were reported and he would ask attorneys "to assist me in reporting these irregularities to federal and state court." He did not say whether he would seek a recount, and he still has not conceded defeat.

Hatcher, 34, a bachelor lawyer and city councilman, told a news conference Wednesday, "Ours was a multiracial campaign as well as a multiracial victory. Let us once and for all put all doubts to rest. We shall have a multiracial government."

Hatcher termed his election proof "if any was needed that Negroes know how to make full use of the ballot box to make their wishes known." He said the election emphasized that "Negroes across the country can obtain redress through the electoral process."

Lake County Democratic chairman John G. Krupa, who refused to support the Democratic candidate, charged there were violations of election laws in at least three precincts.

Krupa, also a member of the county election board, signed the certification of Hatcher's election showing 39,330 votes for Hatcher and 37,941 for Radigan. The turnout was a record for this steel center whose 180,000 population is about 55 per cent Negro.

statements of U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that the United States is fighting to insure the right of the South Vietnamese to political self-determination.

On the other hand, Fulbright reportedly said, Humphrey's recent statements have supported a thesis Johnson has laid down in recent utterances—that the real enemy is aggressive Asian communism, headquartered in Red China.

Fulbright has said a policy of containing Chinese Communist expansion implies permanent U.S. occupation of parts of Southeast Asia instead of relatively early withdrawal of American military forces after a negotiated end to the war.

After reciting this premise, the Arkansas senator was said to have asked Humphrey: "Just who is our enemy there?"

"You don't have to ask the GI whose leg has been cut off who the enemy is," Humphrey was quoted as replying.

Fulbright got no chance to pursue the issue further when the questioning round passed to another.

Fulbright would not comment on the exchange except to say Humphrey gave a report "intended to convey the impression that things are going well in Vietnam." Humphrey did not discuss the meeting with newsmen.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said in an interview that despite the vice president's optimistic predictions there appears to be no end in sight for the war.

GRANDFATHER IS A BIG FAT PROBLEM
Dear Helen: Boy, do I have one fat problem: my Grandfather!
He is 85 and has lived with us five years. Boy, I wouldn't live there over if you paid me by the hour!
Every night he goes to bed at 10, but then gets up and bangs around the room like a herd of elephants for a whole hour. He won't talk to me, and if he does it's always to gripe. But if he isn't in on everything that goes on, he sulks. I am ashamed to bring company home because of how he looks and acts. He won't go off in another room when friends are over, but has to hear every word they say, and then he yells how the younger generation is going to the dogs. Right in front of them.
The whole family tries to make him happy, but he still struts around like we owe him a favor. My Dad took him to the doctor last week and he said he'd probably live to be a hundred. Everyone is ready to pop and thinks he could be in a rest home, but Dad won't hear of it.
I'd like to hear from some of your readers who had a problem like this and solved it because I don't think I can stand another five years of this—N.T.Q.
Dear N: When you can't change a situation, the next best thing is: learn to tune out what you can't take. If your Grandfather lived in someone else's home, you'd call him a "character!"

ter," and you might even like him. But because he's underfoot, you're letting him get under your hide. Remind yourself he's old and childish and don't take his criticisms seriously—in fact, don't listen to them. But be kind. And your parents could help a lot if they'd stop letting Snappy Grandpa rule the roost. —H.

Dear Helen: I have two girl friends I like a lot. But they don't approve of my boy friend. They say I see too much of him and neglect them, and they run him down every chance they get. Obviously they aren't going steady.

Their ridicule is beginning to get to me—I see the bad points in my boy friend, after they joke about them. But really, he's wonderful—I think.

We three work in the same office and used to go Friday-nighting together. They think I should still keep Friday free for them. In their opinion, girl friends come first. Who's right—WONDERING

Dear Won: You are. In an unmarried girl's life, men always take precedence over women—and your girl friends will agree the minute they get men of their own.

Forget their snide remarks, and forget THEM, if they keep on with the slams. —H

Dear Helen: This is "Cone" again, except now she's "Saved." Thanks to all those girls who sent me advice about why I shouldn't go for heavy petting, and more.

I learned that what I was doing was only hurting the guy and me. I was tempting him past his limits. It wasn't love; just curiosity, or proving how much he needed me, or something.

I learned from a near disastrous experience that if you REALLY care, you can wait. Teenagers aren't ready yet. They are just playing adult games, and they don't know the rules.

I guess this is a choice every girl must make: whether she wants to take it "easy" now and suffer later, or whether she'll stand her rightful ground against the most persuasive of enemies, her emotions. —HAPPY AGAIN

Inspired Song
In the tune of Shakespeare London Bridge was fined with houses and resembled a street. The houses were torn down when the bridge became unsafe and this destruction inspired the famous singing game of London Bridge Is Falling Down.
